

Statistical Careers Day at SDSU Exhibitor Information:

You are cordially invited to participate as an exhibitor in the Sixth Annual STATISTICAL CAREERS DAY co-sponsored by the San Diego Chapter of the American Statistical Association (SDASA) and other organizations to be held on Saturday, May 20, 2006, at UC San Diego. This is a unique opportunity to meet young statisticians and students who have not yet decided upon a career, introduce them to your organization, and help them learn about the diverse opportunities, challenges, and prerequisites for a successful career in statistics.

The exhibitor's hall will open at 11 a.m. for set-up. Each exhibitor will be provided with a table and a sign. The Careers Day will begin at 9:30 as described in the following announcement. Exhibitors may elect to attend the morning session or just come for the career fair at lunch.

Corporate exhibitors often use Careers Day as a recruitment opportunity, which is a welcome activity. There are no facilities for interviewing, so we ask that you only distribute information about your open positions and contact potential candidates at a later time. Careers Day is an educational event, so your participation will be appreciated regardless of any open positions. Students will really appreciate your expertise and advice about the nature of a career in industry and how to prepare for this career. Academic departments often use Careers Day to recruit students, but we also hope to provide an opportunity for participants to speak with faculty about the nature of an academic career.

You can register for the event at our web site, www.sdasa.org, after April 26th. Alternatively, you can mail the following exhibitor's registration form to the address below or FAX it to (858) 678 8248. Please call or email to confirm your participation to Dr. Patricia English (858) 526-4288, patricia.english2@pfizer.com OR Dr. Shah Golshan (858) 642-1264, sgolshan@ucsd.edu. If you are unable to participate in person, we can display or distribute materials about your organization, or about specific openings. More information can be obtained from the SDASA web site at www.sdasa.org or by calling either one of us at the numbers above. Career day is free of charge to all participants, including exhibitors. Bringing free paraphernalia (pens, pads, etc.) with your company's logo makes you a big hit with the students!

SDASA Career Day offers your organization a unique opportunity for targeted exposure, and it offers you an opportunity to make a difference in how young statisticians will use their talents. Please join us.

Sincerely,

Dr. Patricia English & Dr. Shah Golshan
